been endeavoring to make good on the mayor's campaign promises to drive the "crooks, gunmen, and gangsters from the city. And that the administration, acting through Commissioner of Police Hughes, has been prosecuting the gangsters mercilessly, throwing them out of their haunts and in many instances actually driving them out of the city.

Gangsters Lose Rich Profits.

The authorities concluded that the gangsters, to show their hatred of the administration for its disregard of the welfare of the people, determined to belittle and to criticize the city government through members of the mayor's cabinet and advisory circle and that Fitzmorris and Reid were the victims chosen for that purpose.

In addition to being a member of Mayor Thompson's cabinet, Controller Fitzmorris is president of the Illinois Coal company, which is also head of other George F. Geis enterprises. He entered business with Mr. Geis at his previous Thompson administration.

Dr. William Hale Reid was a practical man in the old 31st ward, now part of the 15th, until William Hale Thompson first became a candidate for mayor. He became an ardent Thompson supporter and the story is told of how he put up his dental chair as security for a loan with which to pay campaign expenses. Upon Thompson's election he was made city spokesman and spokesman from that time on has been one of the "big guns" in the Thompson camp. Reid was the Thompson candidate for secretary of state in the Republican primary fight of 1920, campaigning as a running mate of Gov. Levi Smale. Upon Mayor Thompson's election last spring Reid refused any office, but he has increased rather than diminished his political power by staying off the pay roll.

U. S. ENGINEER MAKES STUDY OF LAKE POLLUTION

Treatment of sewage by all cities along Lake Michigan to rid the water of pollution, is the recommendation expected from Col. E. H. Schulz, war department engineer in Chicago. Col. Schulz is engaged in a survey of the water pollution situation at the request of Washington authorities.

"Our survey has shown that water pollution due principally to the industrial plants to the south of Chicago," he said yesterday. "All along the lake shore cities are feeling the effect of the dumping of this waste into the water and it must eventually result in drastic action, probably sewage treatment by all the cities. Chicago is the only city with this protection today."

Chicago suffers from the dumping of refuse by other cities and they in turn are injured when this waste washes back to them."

Col. Schulz announced that the report of his survey will be forwarded to Washington by the end of the week.

JOSEPH SZCZTANSKI.

Joseph Szcztanski, 21, proprietor of a delicatessen store at 1755 Lulli place, was shot and instantly killed last night by one of three young men with guns whom he resisted when they entered the place to rob him. Witnesses described the man who escaped in a black sedan, as all about 19 years old.

JOURNEY HERE 12 TIMES, THEN FIND SLAYING SUSPECT

On the return trip to Chicago made by Miss Mary McAvoy, 22, of Evansville, Ind., to the murder of a police captain there last November in a bank robbery, a man was pointed out last night in the detective bureau as one of the seven players.

Miss McAvoy said she was married in 1922 to Thomas Evans, giving a south side address for him. She said she had separated from him a year after her marriage. Detectives who took him into custody for questioning were satisfied that he had nothing to do with the killing.

Mr. Meriwether's statement mentions various principles for which Senator Reed stands, but is silent on the prohibition issue, in accordance with the belief of the senator, who is a wet, that this is not properly a partisan question.

By keeping the prohibition issue in the background Senator Reed's supporters hope that he will become an available compromise candidate in the event that the opposition to Gov. Al Smith of New York succeeds in preventing him from getting the necessary two-thirds vote.

Thefts Decrease by Millions, Hughes Says, Praising Police

Commissioner Michael Hughes last night released figures to show progress in abatement of Chicago crime since he became head of the police department in January. The total value of property stolen during the last eight and one-half months, according to his figures reveals a decrease compared with the losses under the Darrow administration for the first three and one-half months of 1927.

Statistical "squelch books" show that from Jan. 1 to April 15, 1927, the total value of property lost or stolen was $1,919,445. For the remainder of 1927 such losses added only $1,919,445 to the year's total. Had the ratio of January, February and March continued the total for the eight and one-half months alone would have exceeded $3,000,000. This means a drop of more than 50 per cent in property lost or stolen since he took charge of the police force.

Call December Ratio Low.

The month of December, ordinarily a period with a slight increase, saw the smallest amount of property stolen in 1927. That month's figure was $113,623.

The commissioner asserted that an increase in the amount of lost or stolen property recovered is due to his department's success in recovering stolen automobiles. In 1926, he said, 12,793 cars were stolen, of which 8,616 were recovered for their owners. During an hour after the body had been identified by Nolan's hysterical brother, Vincent, Deputy Police Commissioner O'Connor questioned Miss Mary McAvoy, 5228 South Morgan street, who first told the official she was engaged to Nolan but later said she was married but had been "going with him" for the last year.

Miss McAvoy said she was married in 1922 to Thomas Evans, giving a south side address for him. She said she had separated from him a year after her marriage. Detectives who took him into custody for questioning were satisfied that he had nothing to do with the killing.

Had Date with Girl.

Nolan was not on duty when he was killed and had an engagement to meet the young woman at 8:30, three-quarters of an hour after he was killed. She said they were to have gone to a grand opening party at a south side cafe.

Carl E. Bauer, Lafayette, a jeweler, and O. G. Ward, a jewelry clerk, witnessed to the slaying, pointed to Michael Albert, alias Brusso, 42, of 4514 West Harrison street. He was taken into custody in his soft drink parlor at 321 West Harrison street.

At midnight the detectives set to work definitely tracing Nolan's movements during the evening hoping thus to get a lead.

Deputy Commissioner O'Connor expressed himself as certain there was a "woman in the case somewhere." Other veteran detectives working on the case were not so sure and decided they were mystified and for the time being would keep an open mind.

LIST ESTATE OF
MRS. HARKNESS
$107,000,000

Inheritance Tax Alone Is $18,000,000.

New York, Jan. 25.—[Special].—Mrs. Anna M. Harkness, widow of one of the founders of the Standard Oil Company, left the largest estate ever recorded by the New York department of taxation and finance. It was revealed today that the filing of an appraisal estimating the gross valuation of her holdings at $107,053,494 and the net valuation at $103,332,408.

This is $20,000,000 more than any other resident of the state has left since the state tax department was organized, in 1885. According to Mrs. Anna A. Stuempfle, deputy tax commissioner, who filed and supervised the drawing up of the report.

Inheritance Tax of $18,000,000.

The estate, he said, was forced to pay inheritance tax levies of $10,000,000 and $1,000,000 in million dollar tax on the amount left to the federal government, $2,750,000 to the state of New York, and the balance was distributed among twelve other states.

Mrs. Harkness, widow of Stephen V. Harkness, co-founder with John D. Rockefeller of the Standard Oil company, died March 27, 1926, at her home, 109th street. Her son, Edward Harkness, already a rich man by the will of his father, was named as the sole executor and largest legatee, receiving a bequest of $93,130,548, the entire residuary estate after payment of stipulated taxes.

The will provided total bequests for philanthropy of $26,650,000, but all gifts made since Jan. 1, 1926, were to be deducted from the bequests.

Thus only $7,725,000 remained to be paid after her death.

The previously announced charitable bequests of Mrs. Harkness included $20,000,000 to the Community Fund for children of New York; $100,000 to Yale University, $500,000 to the board of foreign missions and the board of national missions of the Presbyterian church.

The American Museum of Natural History and the New York Zoological society each received $1,000,000. The Metropolitan Museum of Art and the New York public library also got $1,000,000 each, which were paid previously.

The Hampton Normal and Agricultural Institute of Hampton, Va., receives $700,000, and the Tuskegee Normal and Agricultural Institute of Tuskegee, Ala., $450,000.

Husband's Estate Doubled.

Mr. Harkness, when he died, was alleged to have left his widow an estate of approximately $50,000,000. Her holdings had more than doubled in the time of her death, due to a consistent rise in the market price of her securities.

Of the assets listed in the appraisal, $10,423,339 were in stocks and bonds, mostly $40,000,000 representing her holdings in various Standard Oil companies.

His death was attributed to injuries incurred in a recent fall.

His death was attributed to injuries incurred in a recent fall.

POLICEMAN IS SERIOUSLY HURT
IN AUTO CRASH

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 25.—(AP)—

Policeman Peter Peterson, 31, at the Austin station, was reported in a serious condition last night from a fractured skull suffered when the motorcycle he was driving collided with an automobile at Chicago and La Vergne avenues. Policemen Dennis Egan, riding in the side car, sustained painful bruises.

No deaths were reported during the day, the total motor toll for 1928 remaining at 63.

Two automobiles driven by women collided at Lake Shore drive and Bellview place. Mrs. M. L. Rutledge, 3000 Sheridan road, sustained a fractured skull. Mrs. Walter Gleason, 1418 North Paulina street, driver of the second machine, escaped without a scratch.

It was reported that Carl Olson, 29, or 655 South Troy street, was held to the grand jury for manslaughter was made by a coroner's jury investigating the death of Edward Lundy, 46, of 6351 South Hamilton avenue.

Lundy was struck by Olson's auto on Jan. 13 and died the next day. Witnesses said Olson was driving recklessly and fast.

DAMAGED SHOE
SHOWN TO JURY
IN TRIAL OF HILL

Cut Fits Broken Edge of Spade, Witness Says.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 25.—(AP)—Clarke Chamberlin, conqueror of the Atlantic ocean by air, today met one of the heaviest tests of his career when the face of a snow gale and snow, he attempted unsuccessfully to negotiate the dangerous air line over the Pennsylvania mountains.

The challenger was thrown back as he tried again and again to make a hop of less than one hundred miles from Middletown, Pa., to Ottawa. He was forced down twice.

The second time he gave the second time to the elements by driving his Special plane at Mifflin, Pa., and completes his journey to this city by train.

of and that any one digging with the implement would place his shoe on a sharp piece of metal.

"Do you see a cut on the sole of this shoe, belonging to the defendant?" inquired Special Prosecutor Andrew J. O'Connor.

"Yes, sir," said the deputy.

"That cut is where that spade was cut right into the sharp piece of metal on that spade. The man that wore that shoe used that spade to dig the grave."

LAWS BASED ON DEFENSE.

Dr. John H. Edgecomb told of performing an autopsy upon the body of Mrs. Hill the day after it had been found in the grave. He discovered, he said, a small circular hole in the left temple and a slightly larger hole behind the right ear. No bullet was found.

The physician said that in his opinion the wound was caused by a bullet.

Dr. Edgecomb testified that the woman had been dead at least two weeks at the time of the autopsy. The state contends that she was murdered on Aug. 5. The body was not found until Aug. 22.

However, on examination he admitted that Mrs. Hill might have been dead only nine days, and he thereby laid a basis for the defense assertion that she was alive as late as Aug. 13.

Rudolph Kline, 72, a retired farmer of Streator; Phillip Hill, 70, who is not a relative of the Hill family; and Sidney Lapman, a storekeeper of Streator, told of identifying the body of Mrs. Hill.

Altoona, Pa., Jan. 25.—(AP)—Clarke Chamberlin, conqueror of the Atlantic ocean by air, today met one of the heaviest tests of his career when the face of a snow gale and snow, he attempted unsuccessfully to negotiate the dangerous air line over the Pennsylvania mountains.

The challenger was thrown back as he tried again and again to make a

"Do you see a cut on the sole of

"Yes, sir," said the deputy.

"That cut is where that spade was cut right into the sharp piece of metal on that spade. The man that wore that shoe used that spade to dig the grave."

LAWS BASED ON DEFENSE.

Dr. John H. Edgecomb told of per-he said, a small circular hole in the

FOR SMITH GIRL

Family Again Appeals to Her Through Press.

New York, Jan. 25.—(Special)—The search in and around New York for Miss Frances St. John Smith, missing 15 years, old Smith college student, continued today with the result, despite receipt of letters, telephone calls, and telegrams, that the girl known then as she was seen in various localities.

Hoping that the girl might be hiding somewhere, Mrs. Anna W. Graman, her grandmother, made another appeal to Miss Smith asking her to communicate with her family.

Many clews fail.

A letter stating the girl was seen going into West 16th street was turned over to the detectives. A search was made to disclose any girl there resembling the missing student.

Another clew came from Long Branch, N. J., reporting Miss Smith was seen there several days ago. After investigating the detectives said they did not find trace of her.

CLEWS HERE VAGUE.

From the many tips on the possible whereabouts of Frances St. John Smith, missing Smith college girl of Northampton, Mass., Deputy Police Commissioner William E. O'Connor yesterday attempted, with slight success to sift something tangible. "So far no clew that looks very hot has developed in Chicago," he said.

William Allen, 3939 North Tripp avenue, told the police that last Saturday a young girl, wearing a small brown hat and brown coat tipped with fur, had stopped him at Franklin and Washington streets with a query as to where she might find a good women's hotel. Allen says he has since seen the Smith girl's picture and they resemble the girl he saw.

can scheme of reorganizing the union. He exuded good will to everybody. He praised the work of the union which he thought had accomplished in thirty-eight years what would have taken others 300 years, but he believed the union ought to be demoralized.

He thought the Latin American diplomats in Washington are too busy with diplomacy to represent their countries properly on the governing board of the union. He proposed special representatives, remarking with a touch of grim humor that Mexico has frequently been unrepresented in the union because of the fact that Mexico had been requested to withdraw its ambassador to Washington. He ignored the fact that five years ago the Pan-American conference provided that a country unrepresented diplomatically at Washington might have a special representative in the union.

Praises Secretary Kellogg.

He praised Secretary of State Kellogg as chairman and Dr. Howe, as director general of the union, but thought that to assure competent successors, it would be well to rotate their offices.

Señor Urbina endorses the Argentine reciprocity proposal, exclaiming with obvious reference to the high tariff of the United States that the national avances of the pan-Americanism."

The Mexican delegate, however, opposed the clothing of the union with political powers and in that connection criticized the Cuban plan to establish a department of international conciliation in the union.

The Mexican reorganization scheme was endorsed in part by Ecuador, but wholly opposed by Santo Domingo and Venezuela.

Peru Opposes Customs United.

Peru took violent issue with Argentina on the customs question. The Peruvian delegate agreed with Dr. Pueyrredon of Argentina that the foundation of pan-Americanism should be economic, but he could not support a declaration so circumscribed as a customs union, and besides that he recognized a tariff policy within the economic autonomy of states.

Dr. Guerrero of Argentina was opposed by the lack of support for his attack on the tariff policies of the United States. He lost no time after the session of the committee in giving to the press the statement that he will not sign the proposed convention for reorganization of the union unless it contains the provision he seeks for establishment of pan-American tariff reciprocity.

The Argentine ambassador also was breathing threats of tariff retaliation by his country against the United States unless the latter country reduces the duties on the products of Argentina. He said that employing the Argentine plan of basing duties on the acquisition of the tariff protection, Argentina might fix duties on American automobiles so much higher than the duties on English cars that the American autos would be virtually shut out of the Argentine market.

Dr. Guerrero of Argentina defended at length the proposal of a tribunal of consultation to be set up independent of the union and to consist of the representatives of five of the twenty-two republics.

LE JEUNE FLIES OVER NICARAGUA BANDIT NESTS

Marines Bring Peace to Nation, He Says.

BY LOUIS ROSENTHAL.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 25.—"I sincerely hope further bloodshed will be avoided," Maj. Gen. John Lejeune, commanding the United States marine corps, said this afternoon after returning from a flying inspection of the 1,500 marines in the expeditionary force occupying the northwestern departments of Nicaragua.

Marine columns are now advancing from Leon and Chinandega towards El Chipote and Quilalí. Every available ox and pack mule has been commandeered for the expedition.

Maj. Archibald Young's main column of marines, while preparing to occupy Gen. Augusto Sandino's base at El Chipote, was shot at by snipers. The marines seized the bandits' mountain stronghold, without suffering any casualties. Every precaution has been taken to avoid an ambush surprise. Marine columns were constantly watching over the advancing columns and were in signal contact with the ground forces.

Plane Hunt for Sandino.

The whereabouts of Gen. Sandino's main army is still unknown. Only small bands of bandits have been seen in the last ten days, but the bandit country is being searched daily from the air to prevent a surprise attack. Gen. Lejeune flew this morning to Ocotal in a marine transport plane, and thence in a fighting plane with Maj. Ross Rowell over El Chipote and the entire bandit area. On his return he expressed great admiration for the work of the air force in Nicaragua. He stated the country is so broken up and rugged that from the air it looks like an open space exist larger than a handkerchief.

The old treaty provided broadly that any war of aggression and vital interest could not be arbitrated, but the new convention will be more specific.

While the words national honor and vital interest will not be used in defining questions not subject to arbitration, the treaty will provide specifically that purely domestic questions—such as the tariff and immigration, subjects in which a third party may be interested—will be arbitrated.

The new convention also will contain a preamble expressing the belief that the day will come soon when war can be wholly renounced.

For naval construction during the next five years, if the $740,000,000 naval bill was enacted and translated into ships. There were indications that some committee members would attempt to cut down the program on the theory that it will be too expensive.

Mr. Butler announced that Secretary of the Navy Wilbur had been asked to supply the committee with figures showing just what the annual cost of new construction will be each year. If the present bill is passed, this would include cost of maintenance, aviation needed for the new ships, and cost of the new ship building. Mr. Butler plans to wipe off the plate all the old ships authorized in 1918, but never begun, and begin new with the new bill.

From testimony given the committee it is apparent that the addition of necessary aviation costs to the new program will raise its total to $800,000,000.

Plan to Censure Plunkett.

Representative Britton (Rep., Ill.) said tonight that as attempt would be made to have the naval committee adopt a resolution censuring Rear Admiral Charles F. Plunkett from New York speech in which he referred to the possibility of war arising with Great Britain because of commercial rivalry.

Argument is Disputed.

Some of us," spoke up Representative McClinton (Dem., Okla.), "feel it is more important to fix the mode of the people to giving the food control and farm relief legislation."

"Mr. McClinton," said Admiral McClinton, "if you would consider the effect on the United States if all trade were stopped by another power, you would realize that there is nothing that could affect us more vitally than naval legislation. Were our trade interrupted the results would be so far-reaching that it would affect every working man in the country and the smallest hamlet."

Admiral McVay's defense of the naval program followed intimations on the part of certain members of the house committee that it might be found necessary to trim down the strengthening bill in order to finance farm and food control legislation.

The admiral in his opinion voiced the opinion that congress would find it would not be necessary to curtail other important legislation because of the naval bill.

DAIRYMEN VOTE MILK STRIKE IN CHICAGO AREA

Rival Group Says It Will Carry On Deliveries.

The Milk Producers association yesterday voted to call a milk strike in the Chicago territory. The vote was taken at the close of an all day session in the Hotel Sherman. A price committee had reported that an unsuccessful attempt had been made to hold conferences with the large dealers.

After the discussion among more than 100 Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin dairymen a fund was started to be used in carrying out the strike. Between now and Jan. 31 the members of the association will announce the date when they will stop delivery of their milk to Chicago dealers, the meeting decided.

Rival Group Opposes Strike.
When W. C. McQueen of Elgin, Ill., president of the Pure Milk association, board of the rival organization's association, he said that the proposed strike would not interfere with Chicago's regular supply of milk.

"The Pure Milk association members produce from 65 to 75 per cent of the milk in the nearby Chicago territory and they will see that the city gets plenty of milk," McQueen said. "Our members are 100 per cent against the strike."

"The price paid us for milk are not satisfactory, but we believe that our difficulties can be settled with the strikers."

Ask 50 Cent Increase.

Dairymen at yesterday's meeting agreed that they were now getting only $1.50 a hundred pounds for their milk, which they said gives them little or profit. They have not had an increase in the price of milk since the Chicago ordinance requiring the testing of cattle went into effect on April 1, 1925, they said. A price of $3 a hundred will be demanded by the strikers. Officials of the association said that that price would bring up to the wartime level. Milk cows removed from their yards as tubercular suspects were given an average of about $45 a head, while it costs from $150 to $175 a head to replace them, according to farmers.

GIRL PLACED ON PROBATION.
The Marie Peterson, 20, of 1818 North Clark street, was placed on probation for one year by Judge Howard Hayes in the Cook county court yesterday after receiving five fine woolens checks totaling $120, she had cashed in a local department store.

FIGHTS DIVORCE

J. O. ARMOUR'S OIL SPECULATION TO HELP ESTATE NOW

Big Debt and Interest Are Due Next Week.

The possibility that a venture in oil by the late J. Ogden Armour may prove to be one of the best investments the Chicago packer ever made was discussed in La Salle street yesterday. The proceeds of that venture, it is said, may permit the clearing up of Mr. Armour's tangled affairs, which at the time of his death last summer represented both large debts and large potential assets.

The venture in oil that Mr. Armour made a number of years ago was in financing the Universal Oil Products company. It was told yesterday that the chief asset of the company at that time was a patent on a cracking process for extracting gasoline from crude oil. But many of the big oil refining companies had similar processes and patents and the value of the Universal company was questionable.

Armour Invests Millions.

It is said Mr. Armour became interested in the Universal company through friends and purchased a controlling interest for somewhat less than $1,000,000. This was a minor investment for the Chicago packer, whose fortune then was around $150,000,000. At that same time, Mr. Armour was promoting a vast irrigated land development project in California, the Sutter Basin company, then the late Mr. Armour was the head of Armour & Co., the great meat packing concern and was the chief owner of its $100,000,000 in stock. On the basis of the packing company's large earnings he was enabled to finance other large investments and potential assets.

Packing Company Reorganized.
The great business of Armour & Co. fell first and most heavily on Mr. Armour as owner of most of the company stock. It became necessary to reorganize the company and to enlist new capital. It developed that Mr. Armour had borrowed large sums from the company in its heyday of prosperity, pledging his stock as se-mour & Co. Mr. Armour was said to have reduced his debt to the company from more than $50,000,000 to around $15,000,000, which was secured by the unsold balance of his Armour stock and other securities. This debt was to run for five years and Mr. Armour's stock was placed in a voting trust company of New York and Chicago bankers.

Both the voting trust and the time of Mr. Armour's debt to Armour & Co. expire next Wednesday. At the same time interest payments of around $250,000 on the Sutter Basin company's bonds are due. Nonpayment of Mr. Armour's indebtedness to Armour & Co. would result in foreclosure of securities he pledged, according to La Salle street bankers. Nonpayment of interest on the Sutter Basin company bonds would result in foreclosure on the land.

Oil Company Prospers.

Mr. Armour's venture in oil, however, may prove a solution of at least some of these difficulties, according to reports yesterday. The Universal Oil Products company has developed into something of a bonanza. Two or three years ago, after the reorganization of Armour & Co., this company brought suit against other companies, including the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, for infringement of its cracking process. It won its suit and now, it is said, representatives of Mrs. Armour and the other Universal Oil Products stockholders are negotiating a settlement that may involve a large sum in cash and even larger future returns.

It was said in La Salle street yesterday that Mrs. Armour and present officers and stockholders of Armour & Co. are negotiating for a settlement of all of Mr. Armour's obligations.

At the time the reorganization committee took over the affairs of Armour & Co., and of Mr. Armour, it is said in La Salle street, the packer's interest in the Universal Oil Products company was regarded as virtually worthless. He was not required to pledge these holdings for debt. But Mr. Armour had guaranteed payment of interest and principal of some $2,000,000 of bonds issued by the Sutter Basin company.

Wife Obtains Oil Interests.

In order to pay interest on these bonds, Mr. Armour sold his interest in the Universal Oil Products company to Mrs. Armour, who was wealthy in her own right. Mrs. Armour is said to have bought this interest for around $1,000,000.

SMALL ORDERS RETREAT AS HOPE ABDONDS FIELD

Assembly Recesses to Await High Court Rule.

BY PARKE BROWN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 25.—(Special)—Gov. Len Small suddenly and unexpectedly sounded the retreat today. Acting in accordance with his wishes, the special session of the general assembly recessed until Feb. 8 on the theory that the state Supreme court will hand down its decision on the 1927 primary law in the meantime. But, so far as the hard facts are concerned, it is believed the governor quit because he found himself up against a set of hopeless circumstances.

It was last night he received word that the Cook county leaders had gone on record, without reservation, in favor of the fall primary. At least it is known that before the two houses convened he had given the signal to mark time.

Vote Lineup Forced.

The senate, regularly submissive to his will, had adjourned over the next week and the house accepted the decree, but not until it had forced a lineup of 69 to 44 on the recess motion.

Immediately there sprang up the report that the small band that the Supreme court at the opening of its February term, would hold the 1927 primary law unconstitutional. This explanation that the governor was willing to mark time, and that he was willing to wait for the right moment to push through his program, was accepted until it became known that the night's fusillade of telegrams made compromise impossible.

Thompson Unyielding.

Present indications are that leaders of both the Brennan and the Thompson-Crowe organizations are willing to let the limit in opposing the spring primaries stand.

That the governor was upset in his project of keeping the present primary system intact, was indicated early in the day when Homer K. Galpin, who is here as chairman of the Thompson-Crowe organization, began displaying telegrams from Mayor Thompson and State's Attorney Crowe to the effect that a friend of theirs, favoring April primaries would become an enemy. These messages seem to have been sufficient to delay primary legislation indefinitely.

BANKER, 60, SUED BY YOUNG WIFE, EX-FOLLIES STAR

The former Helen Henderson, one time Follies beauty, about 23 years old, yesterday filed suit in the Superior court against Aaron Benezich, 60, millionaire Baltimore banker. The bill, presented by attorney Julius J. Hoffman, reveals that the couple lived together only six weeks after their marriage last September.

A decree is sought on a charge of cruelty. The complaint alleges that Benezich struck his young bride on Oct. 16 while they were staying at the Biltmore hotel. He beat her until she fainted.

Last November, the day following their separation, Miss Henderson was quoted in a dispatch from New York as saying that she quit her husband because "he changed from a lover to a kaiser as soon as the wedding was over."

CURTIS PLEDGES STRICT DRY ACT ENFORCEMENT

Answers Borah Queries on Prohibition Issue.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—(Special)—

Dividing on strictly party lines, the senate elections committee voted today to dismiss, for lack of particularities, the petition of William B. Wilson, Democrat, contesting the election of Senator Elect S. V. Vare, Republican, Pennsylvania, but agreed to give the contestants 25 days in which to file an amended complaint.

inary hearing after numerous continuances. His story was that he had received the check in payment for a truckload of alcohol for Horner Brothers, who use it legitimately in their business.

His Recess Ordered.

Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court ordered his recess on a new warrant, when complaint was made to him. Cohen, however, did not wait for this event. Then State's Attorney Crowe was notified and he started action of a different kind.

Goldstein, who was awaiting trial on a check passing, was interviewed and his friends and acquaintances investigated. His connection with Cohen and Moshiek was established.

Through him and others more of the master crooks' methods were revealed. Moshiek always demanded and received 40 per cent of the proceeds of his handiwork, the prosecutors were told. Another 40 per cent went to a dishonest employee or other person who sten company checks bearing printed firm names, together with a sample signature, according to the indictment.

Moshiek's Methods Revealed.

Moshiek often received 80 per cent, the detectives learned, because he would do his own check stealing. With an accomplice or dupe he would go to a bank to cash a check.

Goldstein, who was awaiting trial on a check passing, was interviewed and his friends and acquaintances investigated. His connection with Cohen and Moshiek was established.

Then Moshiek and other experienced passers cashed these stolen checks between the 5th and 20th of the month. They were careful not to overstep the proper bank balance, which is usually higher at this period than during the other half month.

Make Test Through Girl.

They always tried out one or two of the Moshiek masterpieces through some girl, it was explained. If caught she would say she kept a rooming house or that the check was the gift of a gentleman friend. The difficulties in the past, the detectives said, have been in reaching behind the girls and tracing the forgery.

But now, all agreed yesterday, they are ready for a counter attack that should make all checks worth their face value. Prosecutors and bankers said the Petter decision has determined that no one can cash a check.

WALSH DISTURBS OIL MAGNATE'S VISIT TO CUBA

MAYOR'S BARD BURSTS INTO SONG AGAIN WITH 'BIG BILL THE BUILDER'

A new song entitled "Big Bill the Builder" and dedicated to Mayor Thompson made its appearance yesterday at the city hall and the Hotel Sherman. It was a decided hit at both places.

The song was written by Milton Wall, assistant member of the state commissioners commission and author of the mayor's widely sung campaign song, "America First." The first verse goes like this:

"Counting history's pages, we find names we love so well, Heroes of the ages—of their deeds we love to tell, But right beside them soon there'll be a name

Of some we all acclaim.

CHORUS:

"Who is the one, Chicago's greatest son? It's BIG BILL THE BUILDER,

"Who fought night and day to build the waterway,

To stem the flood he stood in mud and fought for all he's worth.

"He'll fight so we can always be the grandest land on earth,

BIG BILL THE BUILDER, we're building with you.

There are three more verses and three more choruses, lauding the mayor "who fought and fought so his history could be taught to make everyone love, honor Washington" and "to improve the town."

To Corporation Counsel Ettelson, Mr. Wall gives the credit for organizing the ideas in the song. Berrie Grossman and Harry Shay assisted him in preparing the music. The song is protected by an "International Copyright."

Sen. Walsh himself did not appear before the committee today but sent word he is willing to come any time.

Admits He's Ex-Convict.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—(AP)—Shortly after William J. McMullin, the government's most important witness in the criminal contempt proceedings against Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns, and their associates, had testified today that Burns officials had instructed him to prepare false charges against a member of the Fall-Sinclair oil company, Harry Burns, he admitted that he was an ex-convict, sentenced in Ohio for forgery.

McMullin had testified he prepared each day false reports about Juror Norman J. Glascock. These reports were intended to be used, he said, to prove that he had been paid to testify.

Heavily laden with the burden of recent scandals in Havana which have gained by the presence of the chairman of the Standard Oil company of Indiana—how he had been with a notable company at dinner in the Jockey club, also a function at the yacht club had been gay, and how again the colonel had been the toast of the party at a dinner where all went merrily on the marriage bell.

The group with which these items were used by a statesman whom many consider one of the most annoying men that ever lived, suddenly appeared, and the reader's jaws, like firm, closed like a steel trap.

Several seconds of ominous silence followed.

Lawyers Seem Perturbed.

Sen. Walsh thought the committee extracted an interesting fact this afternoon. It illustrated, so the con-

Help your baby build strong bones and teeth before he comes...

Today physicians are emphasizing to expectant mothers that the time to build sound teeth and strong bones for the baby, is before he comes.

So they include in the pre-natal diet cod-liver oil. This, they say, is the surest way not only to protect the mother's own teeth but also to build good teeth and bones for the coming child.

There is only one other available source of this protection. Sunshine! But it is practically impossible to get enough sunshine on the bare body to give protection. Clothing, clouds, fog and smoke prevent it. Even ordinary window glass filters out the protecting rays.

Therefore, authorities urge good cod-liver oil as the one certain protection because it is the richest known source of the indispensable Vitamins A and D. When prescribing for the expectant mother and for the baby, a great many physicians insist upon Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil.

They use Squibb's because they know it is Vitamin-Tested and guaranteed to be unusually rich in the essential Vitamins A and D.

Moreover, Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is all oil, undiluted. A spoonful, therefore, gives maximum protection.

Your physician knows the importance of good cod-liver oil for both you and your baby. Use only the best—Squibb's. You can get it at all reliable drug stores. For your protection insist on Squibb's.

Sen. Walsh said that nothing is better cable Col. Stewart that without further discussion you would be pleased to see him.

Sen. Walsh said that Col. Stewart had been the most prominent factor in the decision that Col. Stewart be here by next Tuesday, when the Senate Committee will sit again.

He telephoned his chief in Havana now residing in Senator Walsh's de-

Glascock had been approached by a special assistant to the attorney general and to bring about a mistrial in the oil case.

An affidavit setting forth the charges was prepared by McMullin after the trial of the oil case, he testified, and submitted to Justice Frederick L. Sidbons, of the Supreme court of the District of Columbia.

Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall's son-in-law, M. T. Everhart, gave the illuminating testimony. Recalled to the stand after his revelations of Tuesday, he supplemented them with the statement that when Sinclair gave Fall $233,000 in Liberty bonds for an interest in the Fall-Everhart ranch he took no tangible evidence of his newly acquired interest in the property.

This testimony was extracted by sharp questions from Senator Walsh. The value which he set upon the answers was indicated by his exclamation "I am—amazed" look. It is a look that may be intended to blight the face of a witness. Such, in any case, seemed to be its effect today.

Wahlberg is Informative.

G. D. Wahlberg, formerly private secretary to Sinclair, was far more informative today than upon occasions when his relations with the oilman.

Teapot Dome was the subject of his testimony.

He was asked to touch and please Senator Walsh, who said:

"Before, Mr. Wahlberg, you seemed to want to tell something, which, nevertheless, you did not tell."

"Sir, why this change?"

"Before," said Mr. Wahlberg, "I was a nervous wreck, a very sick man."

"I hope," replied the senator with a courtly smile, "that you have regained your health."

"I have, thank you," said Wahlberg.

Senator Walsh's joy in the restoration of the health of the witness was caused by Wahlberg's testimony that the $233,000 worth of Liberty bonds which traveled from Sinclair to Fall started their journey direct from Sinclair's safety deposit box and started in the safety of the ocean. However, it is believed to have been the cause of his death.

The former Burns operative declared that William J. Burns had told him to "stick to your story and you will be well taken care of," and had praised him for his work. Burns did not learn until two weeks later that Long was McMullin and had kept the government informed of the detective's activities.

MEXICO ARRESTS 20 WOMEN FOR TEACHING CREED

All Instructors Seized at Catholic College.

BY JOHN CORNRYN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Copyright 1928, by The Chicago Tribune.
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 25.—The entire teaching staff of the Josefina Catholic college here was arrested yesterday by the department of the interior, and from there to police headquarters. The school was closed. The score arrested were all women, some past middle age, who for years have taught in schools connected with St. Bridget church, at one time the most fashionable temple in the Mexican capital. They are accused of violating the law regulating religious institutions and with introducing religious teaching into the school after having promised to conduct the institution on a strictly laical basis.

Arrest Society Women.

In addition to Catholics arrested three days ago, two prominent society women were arrested this morning, accused of revolutionary and seditious propaganda and of aiding rebels.

Other Catholics have been summoned to police headquarters as witnesses in investigations which the police are making in regard to Catholic circulars sent about the city inciting revolt against the government.

In a house in the suburban town of Guadalajara, large quantities of bonds issued by the League for Catholic Defense, as well as inflammatory edicts, were discovered yesterday. The residents of the house, two sisters, Luis and Guadalupe del Villar, were held for examination. There is much excitement in Catholic circles over their arrest.

Troops March on Rebels.

It is reported from Guadalajara, that government troops are moving against the rebels in the state of Jalisco from half a dozen directions. Minister of War Amaro says the revolt there and in neighboring states will be crushed within a month or six weeks.

COSGRAVE LAYS WREATH ON TOMB OF WASHINGTON

Congress Receives Him with Honor.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—The culminating point of President Cosgrave's visit to the United States came today, when the first president of Ireland laid a wreath on the tomb of the first President of the United States and later in the day was received with extraordinary honors on the floor of the house of representatives and the senate.

The president said to Tim Healy, that he considered this the greatest honor paid to Ireland in all the ages. Drives to Mount Vernon.

In the morning he drove to Mount Vernon, where he was received by Col. Dodge, custodian, and conducted over the grounds.

After inspecting the house, the whole party walked to the tomb; the president entered and laid a wreath in the Irish national colors on the stone coffin of the founder of the republic. After placing the wreath, Mr. Cosgrave stood for a few moments with his head bowed in prayer.

Welcomed by Longworth.

The ceremonies at the capitol were moving. A few minutes before three Speaker Longworth announced that the house was to receive the Irish president, appointed a committee to receive him, and announced a recess until his arrival. On coming on the stroke of three the president appeared and, followed by the members of his official party, was escorted to the speaker's chair, where he was welcomed with another department.

Then the members of the house lined up and filed by, shaking the president's hand and chatting later with his cabinet members and officials.

From here the president party went to the senate, where the Vice President already had announced their coming and a similar scene was enacted there.

Thanks American People.

There Mr. Cosgrave expressed his thanks to the American people for all they had done for Ireland in his years of struggle.

He recalled Benjamin Franklin's visit to "the parliament of my country," and said that the Irish, to a man, had been in favor of the American colonists. He declared that now, at last, he had come to return the visit on his own behalf and on the behalf of his people.

The reception by congress was followed by a short visit to the library of congress. In the evening he received a delegation of Washington Irishmen called on the assistant secretary of state, and dined with the secretary of state at the Pan-American building.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

DUBLIN, Jan. 25.—It is rumored here that changes will be made in the government when President William T. Cosgrave returns from his tour of the United States.

With the change in the government generally when James MacNeill, high commissioner in London, succeeds Tim Healy, there will be a vacancy left, for which Minister of Defense Fitzgerald, now with President Cosgrave in Washington, is mentioned.

Allen, 35, former purchasing agent for the Atlanta pentagon, and reputed eastern representative of the beer syndicate, was fined $5,000. Matthew Kohn, soft drink parlor owner, and his brother, Theodore, were each fined $1,000.

A. M. Kohn, brother of Matthew and Theodore, was freed with Winge and William F. Kohn, alleged trade manager of the syndicate.

Federal Judge James H. Wilherson assessed the fines on the plea of guilty made by the defendants, with the understanding that the government would not recommend jail sentences.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have aches and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablet or two and dissolve it in water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grape and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity.

Jad Salt is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

Druggists say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

There are few cases of rash, etc., itching or chafing which will not be relieved with a few applications of Resinol. The most stubborn skin afflictions have yielded to its soothng healing properties. In thousands of homes Resinol is today the first to be used on any skin irritation. All druggists.

Resinol

10 Min.

A few drops of Resinol in each nostril will relieve any cold or headache. Use it all day long. Try it when you feel like a headache or when you have a sore throat.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

160th Anniversary SALE of the ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA at a NEW LOW Price!

YOU can now realize your lifelong wish to own the Encyclopaedia Britannica—the genuine Britannica, recognized the world over as the greatest library of knowledge in the world! For this great work is now available at a NEW LOW PRICE, and upon Easy Terms of Payment that anyone can afford. To those who have put off ordering a set, this 160th ANNIVERSARY SALE offers an opportunity to save many dollars on the very latest Britannica.

Congratulations!

From all over America, telegrams of appreciation are pouring in every day. Here are a few of them:

From CHARLES EVANS HUGHES,
Former Secretary of State:

I heartily congratulate you on the Anniversary of the foundation of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, an event of high significance and great public benefit in the systematic diffusion of knowledge.

From ANDREW W. MELLON,
Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C.:

Please accept my congratulations on the one hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. This publication has exerted a most profound and far-reaching influence on education throughout the world and has performed a service of inestimable value in making readily available such an accurate and comprehensive body of knowledge.

From SIR ROBERT BORDEN,
Ex-Premier of Canada:

Upon the one hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, pray accept my congratulations and my best wishes for a fitting and inspiring celebration. It is indeed an event of marked significance having regard to the service of this great publication in the cause of education and culture.

From DR. S. PARKES CADMAN
Brooklyn, N. Y.:

The Encyclopaedia Britannica is by common consent the first work of kind in the world. It has contributed in manifold and permanent ways to the culture of all English-speaking nations, as well as to other civilized lands.

I congratulate you upon its perennial youth and vigor.

It reaches its one hundred and sixtieth anniversary with a wider range of information than ever before during its long and illustrious career.

From MARY ROBERTS RINEHART,
Author and Playwright:

My gratitude and admiration to the Encyclopaedia Britannica on its one hundred and sixtieth anniversary. Its encyclopedic knowledge—undeniably it is in that long period cannot possibly be estimated. Its wide information makes for civilization. Its contribution towards civilization is the largest made by any single agency. I am never without it.

From CHARLES M. SCHWAB,
New York:

Let me add my congratulations to those which you are no doubt receiving from many others on the one hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the Encyclopaedia Britannica and wish you continuing success in the development and expansion of this important work.

From ADOLPH S. OCHS,
Publisher, New York Times:

The Encyclopaedia Britannica since its foundation, one hundred and sixty years ago, has been the ever-increasingly recognized authoritative source of world knowledge reaching almost the sum of human skill and ingenuity in its most refined. American's efficiency and enterprise have brought this colossal storehouse of information within reach of nearly every household.

From JOHN GRIER HIBBEN,
President, Princeton University:

My hearty congratulations upon the 160th Anniversary of the foundation of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. This work has proved an infallible world under a date of deep gravitate. The Encyclopaedia Britannica's record of advancing knowledge forms a complete history within itself.

An Epoch-Making Event

The Britannica's 160th Anniversary is an event of tremendous importance from the standpoint of culture and education. And, in order to make this great event mean something tangible to the general public, the publishers of the Britannica have arranged for a special printing of the latest 13th Edition, to be sold at a price so low that no one need now be without this indispensable work.

Far in advance of this great sale, orders were placed for all the necessary materials. More than a million pounds of Britannica Opacity paper—inks and cloth and leather in correspondingly large quantities—have been purchased from the manufacturers at prices which only the Britannica could secure, owing to the immense volume of its business which is world-wide.

Complete and Authentic

The Encyclopaedia Britannica now, as always, stands head and shoulders above every other work of reference ever published. Its commanding position has never been successfully challenged.

That is why one of the publications of the American Library Association calls it "the most famous encyclopaedia in English."

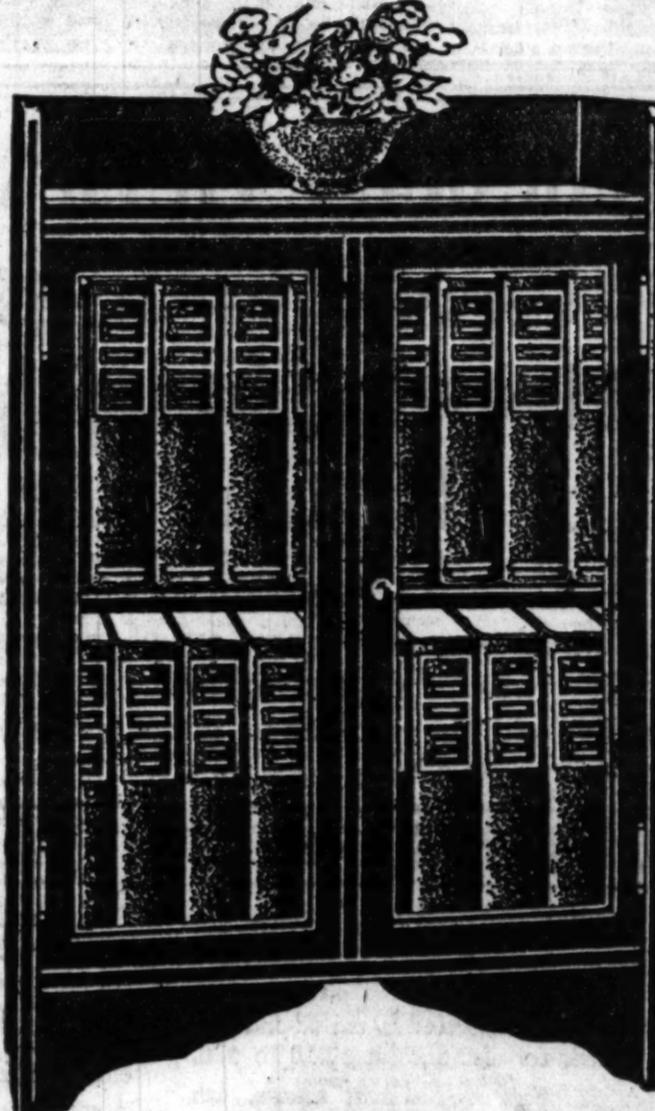

That is why more sets of the Britannica have been sold than of all other encyclopaedias combined.

Today nearly 500,000 sets of the Britannica are owned by thinking, ambitious people. They cherish this great work as the very foundation of their libraries.

An Incomparable Value

All other works of reference are pygmies beside it. With its 50,000,000 words, the Britannica contains at least twice as much reading matter as the next largest work of reference. Yet YOU can actually buy the Britannica at a lower price!

More famous Americans have written for the Britannica than for any other American work of reference; and every other civilized country in the world is also represented in the Britannica by the writings of more authorities of that country than you will find in any similar publication in any language.

A Wonderful Work that Cannot Be Imitated

The Encyclopaedia Britannica was founded in 1768. Since then numerous editions have appeared, until today the latest, the 13th Edition, stands in a class of its own, unequalled and unrivaled. From time to time, other publishers have tried to make cheap imitations of it, in a dozen different languages, but these have died out after one or two editions because none of them could stand comparison with the Britannica.

There has always been something in the spirit of this great work, handed down from one generation of editors to another—some splendid spirit of foresight and thoroughness and impartiality and nobility of purpose—that imitators could never copy.

The Britannica is not the work of hack compilers, but of the world's greatest authorities—more than 2500 of them—chosen from all countries for their first-hand knowledge of the subjects upon which they have been invited to write. Their articles are signed—thus, when you own the Britannica, you get your knowledge first-hand, from the men and women who know their subjects best.

A Marvelous Index Volume

The Encyclopaedia Britannica is the only work of reference that has an entire volume devoted to an Index—an index which cost more than $150,000 to produce. This remarkable Index volume, with its 600,000 references, gives you complete command of all the rich resources of this comprehensive work. It is like a huge magnifying glass which enables you to pick out, in a moment's time, the vital knowledge that you must have. A reference work without an index is often absolutely useless. The information may be there, but you can't find it. That is never true of the Britannica, which places all the knowledge in the world at your command for instant use.

While This Offer Lasts Here is What You Get

The complete 13th Edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, comprising the 28 volumes of the latest standard edition, 3 supplementary volumes and an enlarged Index—32 volumes in all.

You get it in the large-page, large-type NEW FORM (32 volumes bound as 16) containing 33,000 pages; 50,000,000 words; 15,000 illustrations, including 550 full page plates (many in color) and 640 maps, on which more than 150,000 separate places are indexed and shown.

And you get all this at a NEW LOW PRICE—an actual saving of many dollars—if You Act QUICKLY!

Prove It To Yourself

Before you risk a dollar of your good money, you can prove to yourself that this is an opportunity you cannot afford to miss.

You have probably always wanted the Britannica, but you have never needed it half so much as you do today. To prepare yourself to meet the challenges of tomorrow—to plan and organize your life—to help your children find their life interests—you must have the FACTS which only the Britannica can give you. Nothing else can take the place of the Britannica in this respect. Its value cannot be measured in dollars and cents. It is the one work you and your family cannot afford to do without. You owe it to yourself to get full particulars of this great work; also details of this great Anniversary Sale Price, which brings this indispensable work within reach of every home.

Difficulties on Trip to Southeast Told.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.
According to test trips, now coming in three general directions by automobile from downtown Chicago, it is obvious that at a distance of 17 miles from the business and the north shore territory is by far the best served by motorizing facilities, that is, traffic arteries.

W-G-N RADIO PROGRAM

416.4 Meters, 720 Kilocycles
The Chicago Tribune Station on the Chicago Hotel
Thursday, January 26th

Charles Marshall as Rhenes.

"AIDA," with ROSA RAISA singing the title role, is presented to the air tonight by the Chicago Civic Opera company. Charles Marshall sings the tenor part of Rhadames; Luigi Montesanto, baritone, appears as the Ethiopian king Amonasro. This great tragic opera by Verdi will be heard between 9 and 10 o'clock through the courtesy of the Balkite company.

The Clique Club Eskimos embark tonight on a musical voyage aboard the S. S. "California," the modern galleon that actually does heave anchor two days hence for its maiden trip. From New York to Panama, from Panama to Frisco, the whole trip is pictured in appropriate music . . . "Sailin' On" . . . "Lady of Havana" . . . "Spanish Shawl" . . . "Golden Gate." The gang-plank is pulled at 8 o'clock.

Mac Sattle brings in another celebrated troupe of showmen to night to mingle with the Hoodlums. Fulco and Sebastian, late stars

John Fulco of Ziegfeld Follies, will be there with two of the most richly blended voices of Don Sebastian on the American stage. Limma Hunt, a prima donna of footloose fame, sings soprano favorites. Then there are Eddie Frickman and Sam Rosey ("Sharp and Flat"), the two boys at the two pianos. Melba Caldwell, too, and Mac Sattle sing the popular heart-string trollers. During his daytime half hour Mac introduces Marty Fay, the Irish tenor from Philadelphia; Betty Allen Hoff, "Blues" dispenser; Charlie Lenz, piano teaser, and other vaudeville artists.

The Hoover Honey-mooners will be heard singing Victor Herbert's "The Cricket on the Hearth" in their half hour beginning at 7:30. The Sentinels offer also an orchestra and a male quartet rendering Lincke's "Glow Worm," "An Old Guitar . . ." and a miscellany of romantic numbers.

An Evening of Madrigals Puts Elmer in Tune

Shakespeare Songs Give Him Great Joy.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

This column again happily calls to mind the Elizabethan days and the love and lure of William Shakespeare's immortal verses in musical settings as brought to us by the Chicago Madrigal club, D. A. Clippinger directing. WLS, 9 to 9:30.

Mr. Clippinger was at the microphone, and it is our belief that he could have been a Shakespearean actor, judging from the beauty and dignity of his reading of the poet's lines.

It is a singularly strange sounding word, madrigal. Yet from our various hearings of this many part vocal music we are now able to discern something of the fancifulness and gaiety of the composers. The weavings to and fro of the various voices is one or the other part takes the lead is of especial interest to the hearer.

Benjamin Franklin at the French court was the incident portrayed by the "Great Moments in History" series from New York, through WEBH, 7 to 7:30. My dial remained unbroken to this broadcast. Vice President Dawson talk on the World's Fair, from the radio station, 7:35 to 7:45, both locked the dials and unleashed my shorthand pen.

There was another Elizabethan-pastoral atmosphere created during the flute-harp-guitar trio concert from W-G-N, 9:30 to 10. Not only did the flute perform in a manner that was a wonder from a technical viewpoint, but the rural atmosphere it created was as true as the country music of the Placencia, baritone, soloist on this program reveals additional admirable qualities at every hearing. He is a clear voice, richly toned, full of color and capable of many varieties of expression.

In announcing the W-G-N concert program, 10 to 11 a. m., it was stated that the orchestra filled the studio. It occurs to me that since we have here an orchestra of symphonic dimensions and free from limitations or restrictions, they, of all the Chicago orchestras, are peculiarly fitted to give us all kinds of novelties.

In addition to "Aida" tonight from W-G-N and other local stations, to W-G-N and other stations, Mrs. Rosey, that will be on the KTW 7:30 to 8 o'clock program. And on Friday evening, W-G-N, 9 to 10, Edith Mason will be heard.

FRIEND IN NEED

Twins Are on Way to Society Couple, Physician Advises

BY THALIA

The proprietor of this column, who, for instance, is pronounced with a long I and the accent on the second syllable, and is named for one of the classic Graces (see Bulfinch Mythology), who presided over the social graces, doesn't hold with the style of society chronicling that heralds the advent of the "cunubial bird" and some intimate phases of the lives of the elite, but she would like leave to report in this unique instance from her role. It seems that one of the cleverest and most popular of the young married couples on the near west side have been apprised by their physician that they in all probability are to become the proud father and mother of a pair of twins. The event, predicted with as much certainty as is scientifically possible, is not so important as this information might indicate, for it is scheduled for May. This couple will add further distinction to their family name, which is significant in a literary as well as social way. No one can guess who the lucky and matched pair are, if you know that they have two other young ones?

Kindly Offer.

AMIR GETS STAGE FRIGHT IN POMP OF PARIS ENTRY

Ruler of Afghans Sleeps in Napoleon's Bed.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 25.—Paris has seen a king decked out like a plump mouse, but Amanullah Khan, amir of Afghanistan, is the only one seen in Paris trying consciously to look his best, and that today for the first time.

—So Paris, despite the splendid spectacle of the welcome arranged by the government, failed to quiver at the Asiatic ruler's advent; and Amanullah Khan got a bad attack of stage fright.

There were more 5,000 persons straggled in the broad, sun-bathed Champs Elysees and all its magnificence, lined with glittering dragons of the Republican guard, and 1,000 troops in horizon blue, with fixed bayonets.

Amanullah gulped again and began nervously arranging his opera bouffe uniform, sent a frantic telegram to camp scurrying back to the train to get a white cape to enhance the effect, and then, still fidgeting with his clothes, mounted beside President Doumergue.

When Amanullah showed himself, while guns thundered a royal salute, planes zoomed overhead, and bands screeched the French and Afghan anthems, the up and coming monarch, incident, stepped out of the president's private train to the red carpeted platform of the ceremonial Bals de Boulogne station, where Woodrow Wilson arrived, right into the arms of more French nobles than ever assembled in one spot before.

The amir, who is a strict Moslem, has never drunk alcohol.

The royal couple were lodged in the utmost splendor in Quai d'Orsay, the king sleeping in Napoleon's bed, and the queen in a dainty chamber reminiscent of Marie Antoinette.

BYRD TELLS HIS AMBITIONS IN ANTARCTIC TRIP

Looking forward to his south polar flight, Commander Richard E. Byrd, lecturing in Orchestra hall last night under the auspices of the Illinois League of Women Voters, informed his great ambition the placing on the explored antarctic area a memorial to American school children in the study of their geography. To perform that service the north pole and Atlantic flyer will undertake what he considers the world's last great challenge when he sets off Sept. 10, with three airplanes, sixty men, and one hundred dogs, to explore the hazardously regions.

CHINESE MISSION OF GOOD WILL TO SEEK NEW PACTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] SHANGHAI, Jan. 25.—The national diplomatic commission of south China, composed of Dr. C. C. Wu, former foreign minister; Sun Fo, former finance minister; and Hu Manning, prominent Kuomintang, sailed today aboard the liner President Wilson for the purpose of spreading good will and taking up treaty revision in various world capitals.

The party, after visiting Afghanistan, Persia, Iran, and Turkey, proposes to stop in the capitals of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Germany, France, and England. They will then go to Washington.

EXECUTIVE PEKING POLICE CHIEF.

PEKING, China, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Execution of Gen. Chen Shih-chiang, chief inspector of the Peking police force, was ordered by his officers, was announced officially today. Chen was arrested recently on charges of blackmailing wealthy citizens by arresting them on false charges and offering to release them on payment of large sums. He and his four subordinates were executed Sunday.

SHOULDER FORTY-FOUR IN CANTON.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—(AP)—A dispatch from Hongkong says that authorities at Canton have frustrated another attempt at a communist rising. The dispatch says that police and soldiers surrounded a suspected district, arrested and summarily shot forty-four communists.

HEART DISEASE TAKES VICTIM.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(Special)—John Marion Severs, a civil war veteran of Ashbury township, was found dead yesterday, presumably from heart disease.

TREGET'S RALLY WINS PLAUDITS OF HI LI FANS

Long Shots Also Bring Crowd's Cheers.

After Treget, who was billed as the Duke Ruth of jail when the Spaniard was in, made his entry in the 10th, came through like a champion and won the feature singles match of the evening. Treget came from scratch after each of his wins had clinched off two or more points earlier. Treget shook up his cesta and served straight through the field for consecutive points to a victory, ending by the turnup, and the crowd paid the tribute to his skill.

Treget's rally will still have faith in Treget, for he paid only $1.10 to win.

He paid $1.20 to place, and $3.20 to show. And to show his singles triumph was not an accident, Treget stepped out the following fifteen points double with Magureuil to whip the Genevieve-Marcellino combination by a 15 to 9 score.

Long Shots Cop.

While Treget's performance in the singles was the feature of the evening, his shot helped to make the night a success for those encouagers who like to wager on dark horses.

The Pasco-Mugica team paid the highest price for the 15th, with six points when their well-wishers collected $14.30 for every $2 invested.

Urganga, running six straight, and Buruet, six straight, were the 7-7 tie, with the subsequent winners only to lose first honor when Buruet missed an easy re-

Favorite Beaten in Doubles.

The other long shot of the evening was the Satur-Mugica team, when they capped in the initial double of the night. They paid $13.70 to those who risked a $4 encouragement. Sum-mar:

TERMS ARRANGED FOR TWO GREAT STEEL MERGERS

BY O. A. MATHER.

Two of the largest mergers in the steel industry were arranged yesterday. Officials of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company and the Inland Steel company announced last night that a preliminary consolidation agreement had been reached. Stockholders of the Republic Iron and Steel company approved acquisition of the Trumbull Steel company.

Mergers of the Youngstown and Inland companies will be built in a new $25,000,000 combination to be known as the Youngstown-Island steel corporation. The Youngstown company has assets of about $27,000,000 and the Inland company has assets of about $8,000,000. The new company will be second in size only to the United States Steel corporation.

The Republic Iron and Steel company will now rank as the fifth largest steel company and will have assets of about $185,000,000.

Youngstown-Island Terms.

The Youngstown-Island merger plan will be submitted to the directors and the stockholders of both companies.

The new company will have 2,300,000 shares of common stock. Common stockholders of the Youngstown company will receive 2,000,000 new shares in exchange for their present 987,606 shares, while common stockholders of the Inland company will receive 1,200,000 new shares in a share-for-share exchange.

In order to adjust its assets, the Youngstown company will declare a dividend aggregating $11,000,000 to its stockholders and the Inland company will distribute a dividend of $4,000,000. These dividends will be paid in March.

The provisions in the merger agreement for the preferred stocks of both companies will be announced later. The new company will have an annual productive capacity of more than 15,000,000 tons of iron and steel.

Repatriate Financing Plan.

In approving the Republic-Trumbull merger, the Republic stockholders voted to increase the par value of their 300,000 shares of $100 par value to $100,000 no-par shares. It is proposed to change one share of Republic common for five shares of Trumbull common and 1-2-3 shares of Republic common for one share of Trumbull preferred. While Trumbull stockholders have not voted on the proposal, it is understood that this arrangement has sufficient prestige to carry out the plan.

Several other industrial merger proposals were announced yesterday. Stockholders of Eastern Dairies, Inc., voted to merge with the General Ice Cream corporation. Eastern Dairies will receive 100,000 shares of General Ice Cream stock and 15,000 shares of Eastern Dairies preferred stock will be re-

Certain-tied Males Offer.

The Certain-tied Products corporation has offered to take over the Beaver Board company and its subsidiaries. The Certain-tied corporation, with the $6,462,205 funded debt of the Beaver Board companies, assume all other liabilities, and pay the equivalent of $50 a share for Beaver Board preferred stock and $5 a share for the common stock or exchange half a share of Certain-tied for seven per cent preferred stock for one share of Beaver Board preferred stock. The Beaver Board shareholders will vote on the proposal on Feb. 14.

A controlling interest in the Kentucky Power company and Mayville Public Service corporation and their subsidiaries has been sold to the United Public Service company. Negotiations are underway for acquisition by the Bohn Aluminum and Brass company of the Michigan Smelting and Refining company.

Reduction Increases Capital.

Directors of the Air Reduction company voted yesterday to increase the authorized capital stock from $23,334 to 1,000,000 new shares. They also voted a three-for-one split-up through the exchange of 766,400 shares for the present 223,401 shares outstanding. The new stock will pay a $2 a year, which is equivalent to $4 on the present stock which has been paying $5. Stockholders will vote on the proposal on March 14.

The Matheson Alkali Works increased its annual common stock rate from $4 to $6 by declaring a quarterly payment of $1 per share.

Grace & Co., declared a special 50 per cent dividend on its second preferred and common stocks.

The Liggitt & Myers Tobacco company increased the annual rate of $1 per man and B common stocks from $3 to $4 by declaring $1 quarterly and also declared extra dividends of $1 on both classes. Extra dividends of $1 were declared by the Diamond Match and Buckeye Pipe companies.

On the other hand, the Jordan Motor company omitted its quarterly payment of 1 per cent on preferred stock and the Martin-Parry corporation preferred its 50 quarterly dividend. The Childs company did not declare its usual cents per stock dividend.

B. F. Goodrich Reports $151,000,000 Net Sales

The B. F. Goodrich company fast year had the largest business in its history.

Net sales exceeded $151,000,000, according to a preliminary report issued yesterday. The new stock will pay a $2 a year, which is equivalent to $4 on the present stock which has been paying $5. Stockholders will vote on the proposal on March 14.

WHEAT AND CORN PRICES WEAKEN UNDER SELLING

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Continued weakness in wheat in Liverpool yesterday led to selling of futures here, and with increased pressure from the northwest later declined sharply, and at the inside figures showed 1 1/2¢ lower under the final in the cash market. The close was on a fair rally, with net losses of 4 1/2¢ to 5¢, with March 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/2¢ and May at 1 1/2¢ to 1 3/4¢. Corn weakened on selling by scattered long and scattered liquidation, and closed at the bottom, with net losses of 1 1/2¢ to 2¢, with March 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢. Late in May 4 1/2¢ to 5¢ lower, and rye 4 1/2¢ to 5¢ lower.

Increased pressure of Argentine wheat was responsible for the decline in Liverpool and served to temper bullish enthusiasm here. The price also reflected the Canadian crop report to be given out after the close, but the final estimate on all provinces showed 440,000,000 bu, a decrease of 4,000,000 bu from the preliminary returns, and compared with 467,000,000 bu last year. Wining was off 4 1/2¢ for the day, with Buenos Aires unchanged to 1 1/2¢ lower and Rosario unchanged to 4 1/2¢ lower.

Liquidation in Wheat.

Scattered liquidation developed in wheat futures on the way down and sellers of bids were forced to protect themselves. Support came largely from commission houses on resting orders, from shorts, and from holders of bids.

Favorable weather for the movement over the corn belt and a decline of 16¢ in the basis on low grade cash grain caused general selling of futures, and with scattered liquidation by longs in service, the market was forced to rally. Sellers of bids were forced to protect themselves and some stop loss orders were caught on the break. Shorts and holders of bids were the buyers.

Country Offerings Light.

Country offerings of cash corn to arrive were small, with only 25,000 bu reported booked by local handlers, and offerings in the southwest were also small. Little was heard regarding export demand. Buenos Aires closed 4 1/2¢ lower and Rosario unchanged to 1 1/2¢ higher.

Weakness in other grains led to selling of oats by longs, but the break brought in good buying by cash houses, and to be removing heads against shipping sales. It was understood that a liberal cash business was to be had, but only 25,000 bu were reported as sold by local handlers.

Canadian government report showed 440,000,000 bu for all provinces, or 15,000,000 bu less than the preliminary returns, and compared with 433,000,000 bu last year. Rye received fair support and showed more resistance to pressure than other grains, although export demand at the seaboard was slow.

BREAK IN PROVISIONS

Packers were sellers of lard and meat to a small extent while buying of lard was fair, and the market was held in between by foreign and local buyers. Prices declined and closed with lard 7¢ to 10¢ lower than the previous week, and meat 1 1/2¢ to 2¢ lower.

Lard in Liverpool was unchanged except for a 1¢ decline in the British market, which is lower. Reports of lard were 1,130,000 lbs, and of bacon only 7,500 lbs.

Imports in the United States to date as given by the Price Current-Grain Report aggregate 8,747,400 hogs, against 7,903,800 for the same time last year. Prices follow:

FARM SCHOOLS MAKE FORESTRY PART OF COURSE

BY HARPER LEECH.

In line with the development of the small wood lot as a primary source of our future wood supply, agricultural high schools are taking up the study of forestry as a branch of farm life. Two such schools in a Mississippian county have set aside plots of 10 to 40 acres to demonstrate practical tree growth for profit.

National forest products should be utilized as not to make too much competition for the small independent producer of wood.

It is evident that the market for wood products will be more and more restricted by competition of all kinds.

Hardly a month passes without the notice of some formerly waste material being under scientific scrutiny as a substitute for wood and undoubtedly in a few years practically all the waste of corn stalks, straw and even wood will be a potential material for construction.

At the same time the great hydroelectric companies are acquiring tracts of land to protect their water supply and cities which are being driven farther and further afield in the search for water, as their populations grow, are necessarily acquiring wooded tracts, which will produce much timber for the market.

Weather deforestation has much effect on any and all the natural floods of America in this country, but there is no doubt as to its effect on the springs of the West. Any one who has observed rural springs at an interval of 20 to 25 years knows with any measurements or statistics that ground water supplies in this country are shrinking.

The Pennsylvania state department of water and waters has ascertained by experiment and measurement that the removal of trees from a large estate in southeastern Pennsylvania caused a decrease in the number of springs from 17 to 10 and greatly diminished a flow of water underground which had amounted to 20 gallons per day.

The government has spent $11,000,000 or more in opening up arable lands—creating competition for land owners. Our great expansion for forest reserves, necessary as it may be, should not be allowed to create competition for the farms, nor the lumber industry generally.

Only enough our investment in the lumber industry is to be in the creation of many sawmills during the period of deforestation in that industry.

For the last five years we have had five stock men who were unable to make any money, those who could sell themselves of grazing privileges in the national forests were able to keep their heads above water, because in no case the government carried the capital costs and principal charges.

ALLIED PACKERS.

For the year ended Dec. 31, 1927, net loss was $2,113,167 after expenses, amortization, interest, provision for bad debts, etc., against net loss of $1,646,627 the previous year.

In addition to the 1927 operating loss, the company claimed a net loss account a total of $3,506,432, including $2,378,432 loss on the sale of Canadian properties. This with operating loss, made $6,000,000 or more in opening up arable lands—creating competition for land owners. Our great expansion for forest reserves, necessary as it may be, should not be allowed to create competition for the farms, nor the lumber industry generally.

Only enough our investment in the lumber industry is to be in the creation of many sawmills during the period of deforestation in that industry.

For the year ended Dec. 31, 1927, net profit was $1,162,398, after all charges, including a net loss of $31,720, a net income of $31,288, a net income of $1,092,000, and a net loss for the year increased $7.1 per cent over 1926.

LIGGETT & MYERS.

For the year ended Dec. 31, net income was $18,733,985 after taxes and charges, including a net loss of $2,014,238 of common bond and common stock bonds against the net loss of $1,900,000 in 1926.

The biological survey puts the number of bison in Montana and the Sioux on the Bisons Hunt in Montana and feeds them with 500 buffalo in 1926.

ATLANTIC GULF AND WEST INDIES.

For the year ended Dec. 31, net income was $1,063,678, against $954,630 in 1926, after first preferred dividends to $18.47 a share on 10,000 shares of second preferred and $69.20 a share on 10,000 shares per common share, against $16.29 a share on second preferred and $3.26 on common in 1926.

THE STEEL NEW BUSINESS.

Gains Over Shipments.

New York, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Although many shipments of the U. S. Steel corporation are reported to have increased several thousand tons daily over the December rate, incoming business is running far ahead of delivery. Present indications point to a gain of about 250,000 tons in bookings on hand will be shown at the end of this month.

Shipments have risen to $3 per cent from $2 per cent a week ago and a rate of 10 per cent is expected shortly. Independent steel companies now average 12 per cent.

NEW AMERICAN EMPIRE BY CANADA

Britain in the Hemisphere

BY ARTHUR S. STREIBER
(Chicago Tribune)
(Copyright 1928 by the Chicago Tribune Co.)
HAVANA, Cuba.—The Pan-American Conference, which was opened yesterday, was stirred today by the news that a movement to divorce the British colonies from the British Empire and unite them with Canada, it is understood, will be placed at the disposal of the Pan-American Conference, as a further step in the program which is to place the colonies eventually under the jurisdiction of the British Empire. The move is to be made by the Canadian government, which is now confined to the politics of the Americas. Canada is now the only country in the Americas which is not a member of the British Commonwealth.

There was much discussion today on the question of the Pan-American Conference, which is viewed as a tremendous opportunity for the Americas to take a step in the direction of independence from the British Empire. The discussion was that the Americas, including the Canadian and British colonies, have progressed to the point where the British Empire, which is now the main power in the Americas, is no longer the dominant power, and the greater nationalistic sentiment is growing.

In some quarters there is a desire to see the Pan-American Conference as a means of ending the British Empire's dominance over the Americas. The colonies, including the Canadian and British colonies, have progressed to the point where the British Empire, which is now the main power in the Americas, is no longer the dominant power, and the greater nationalistic sentiment is growing.

During street interviews, many people expressed the desire to see the Pan-American Conference as a means of placing the colonies in the Americas under the jurisdiction of the United States. These colonies include the Bahamas, Barbados, the West Indies, the Virgin Islands, the Cayman Islands, and the mainland of Central America.

New Problem. This development has opened up the question of the Pan-American Conference in the future. The Pan-American Conference, by European means, in the Western Hemisphere, in the Americas, is the new problem.

The United States is considering the question of the Pan-American Conference in the Americas, and the colonies, including the Canadian and British colonies, have been made to understand that the British Empire, which is now the main power in the Americas, is no longer the dominant power, and the greater nationalistic sentiment is growing.

The British Empire, which is now the main power in the Americas, is no longer the dominant power, and the greater nationalistic sentiment is growing.

It is possible that the colonies, including the Canadian and British colonies, will be discussed at the Pan-American Conference. In the colonies, there is to be some change in the status of the colonies on the mainland of Central America.

With the exception of the colonies of Haiti, Dominican Republic, and the like, the colonies, including the Canadian and British colonies, have been made to understand that the British Empire, which is now the main power in the Americas, is no longer the dominant power, and the greater nationalistic sentiment is growing.
